THE DENISONIAN SCREWS UP...AGAIN!

Living right next door to the Denisonian is normally a pretty peaceful endeavor (listen yadda yadda yadda Bullsheet hates Denisonian and vice versa, yeah, I get it but really things are pretty kosher between us). Anyways. Sometimes the Denisonian gets a little self conscious that

- a) we have a larger more engaged reader base and
- b) we are just so funny all of the time !!! (we know you're thinkin it too!)

So with those insecurities in the forefront of their minds it makes perfect sense for them to prank us. I mean, a blow to the Bullsheet's ego could make anyone feel better, that's why they decided to do this-

Ha. Ha. Ha. Right on our humble front door they added two of their big D stickers (these are a symbol of compensation fyi)

But you know what, ultimately they missed out. In order to be cocky they added 2 making our label read "DlIDeet" not much funny about that. If they had left it with just one D though...mindblowing. In this alternate universe it would be calling us the "DlIsheet" or more clearly the "Dullsheet".

Man. Now that is a blow to the ego. They would finally hit us to our core. With just that one diss call out our repetitiveness in jokes, our inability to come off as relatable, and really just how often our jokes fall flat.

It would be clever, simple, tasteful, and hit us where it hurts. But nope, the Denisonian's ultimately just can't be funny. Nice try you guys!

HOW TO START A CULT AT DENISON

1. So the first step that you need to do is to find something that you really care about. Like how men (18-22 years old) love beer and dapping people up. You need an idea that brings people together and that some people care about. These mission statements will help you gain followers.

2. Once you have this you want to create a symbol for your group. For example, use stars and the moon, three triangles next to each other, an angel without wings, or even a kite could work. Anything to make people want to join and deliver your message.

3. Once you have found your mission statement and symbol it is time to find a leader. When picking a leader, you can do multiple things. Yet, the main way is someone everyone votes on and looks too. Everyone will pay this person a “due” of sorts in order to gain some sort of benefit. For example, a huge case of natty light.

4. Then you need to find a place to worship. This really could be anywhere. For example, every Sunday the whole cult can go to a stingy basement that smells like beer and cigarettes and talk about the cult’s mission for that week. Another example is that everyone could meet in a house that is privately owned for the cult. Everyone can show up and use made up names and sing weird fucking songs.

5. A lot of cults have picked up by doing community outreach. For example, you could all come together and create a fake diner in order to feed people, but also give the money to a good cause. Now this made up diner doesn’t have to be good, just something, as long as you are filling out this part of the plan it’s okay. I mean it can be dog shit, like total dog shit.

6. Finally you just need to grow your group. This can happen in a lot of ways, but you need to make sure that they are your kind of person. You need to be very nice and see if they are the type of people you want to be in the cult. Once you see they are good enough to join, tell them you want them. For example, you could give them a little piece of paper with your name on it and the symbol of the cult, the person can then say yes or no.

Editor’s Note: Mick did not provide the images of himself when kindly giving this article, but as reading through it I was honestly struck with how many of these he has done himself! So please, Denison community, be on the lookout and recognize this man’s face in case your asked to “join a band” or “go thrifting”.*
