

The Bullsheet, a forum for news, humor, and community dialogue, is funded by DCGA, needs their writers to submit something soon... And is printed each day that classes are in session. Submissions must be sent before our editors shamble into the office for next day publication via e-mail to: bullsheet@denison.edu. Submissions herein solely reflect the opinions of the authors.

TIME TO FACE THE TRUTH

Oftentimes, when a patient is in the hospital they will be asked to point to a scale that helps the doctors understand what their pain level is if they have trouble verbalizing it. From 1-10, each number will be paired with a suitable e-m-o-j-i that matches the level of anguish. Due to our brains still being undeveloped (unless any of you are already 26) and assuming you've stunted this progress in one way or another, I find it of dire necessity to help people depict these confusing and complex emotions. In the name of wellness, some might say! Cut/tear out the perfect to express how distraught you are for cutting off your weekend long fling or how nervous you are to tell your trivia group you don't have a master's degree. Hell! Stick them around campus so everyone can understand!

BREAKING: CAMPO RAIDS FORMER PRESIDENT SEELY'S DORM

Campus Safety has recently conducted an unprecedented search on former DCGA President Daniel Seely's private estate in Mar-A-Slivy's. Occurring over the weekend, on Saturday evening to be specific, Campo completed a search based on a warrant pushed by current DCGA president, Alex Pan. The warrant is alleged to have been issued on the grounds that former President Seely had stolen documents meant only for the eyes of the Campus Governance Association's current president regarding Adam Weinberg's immortality.

President Seely responded on his own social media platform, "What Will We DU?", which he created solely for the purpose of him being the only one allowed to post on the social network so that nobody could argue with him.

"Campo has ILLEGALLY RAIDED my compound that is TOTALLY secure in Silverstein Hall. Nobody could get to those documents, trust me, I keep them in my viola case and NOBODY wants to look at a viola. Alto clef scares a lot of people but it is actually very useful. You know the viola was invented..."

The rest is just the former president rambling about classical music, and the post got 10 "Re-Du's".

In response, President Pan pushed one of the Bullsheet's own reporters with a gentle force that did not make our reporter even move slightly in one direction or another. Then, Pan commented, "Now you see Daniel Seely is full of malarkey. I know for a fact that he brings his fraternity brothers over to his house and they read about Weinberg's immortality. Is that what you really want folks? A bunch of immortal Beta's hanging around campus? We have to stop them. Oh, I wasn't supposed to tell you that Weinberg's immortality is a real thing. Can we start this interview over and will you pinky promise not to publish it? A pinky promise is legally binding in DCGA law, I'll have your ass if you publish this!"

Seely announced plans to sue Pan in DCGA court, though seeing how there is no system in place on campus for conducting civil suits it is unsure how this will work out for Seely. He continues to submit articles to the Bullsheet, and we still publish them to keep the campus informed. Though it should be noted that we have to condense them down to a page since he keeps sending us 25 pages each week and 24 of those pages are just him complaining about President Pan.

The Bullsheet will continue to provide updates as this story develops.
