NOVEMBER BINGO

Now that Halloween is officially over, the holiday season is officially kicking off! And what better way to ring in the holiday spirit than with a fun game of bingo? Here is your Bingo card, good up until the New Year! If you complete each activity, come to the Bullsheet office for prizes. (Not really, we don't have those resources- but, it's always fun to see where the winter takes you.) These are just a couple of things I would recommend doing before we dive into 2023. Some are jokes, and some are serious- it's up to you to figure out which is which! Have fun!

Listen to Mariah Carey on November 1	Post your Spotify Wrapped to every social media platform you have	Organize a Secret Santa/White Elephant	Skip your 8:30 simply because it's too cold	Slip on a patch of ice
Have a snowball fight	Cry	Watch a Hallmark movie (bonus points if you cringe so hard you end it early)	Sled down a small hill with a cardboard box	Stress about getting people gifts
Wear a festive accessory	Plan out "I haven't done that since last year!" jokes	FREE	Add your final dates and times to your calendar	Pull an all nighter
Try a seasonal beverage from Common Grounds	Fill out your FAFSA	Find a good study spot on campus (NOT YOUR ROOM)	Eat yellow snow	Watch Elf at least 3 times
Receive a text regarding falling icicles	Wear more than 5 layers of clothing before stepping foot outside	Use the rock salt to season your Huffman meal	Attend your CA's November program (not biased)	Tell a Granville High student that Santa isn't real

THERE IS NO JOURNALISTIC INTEGRITY ON THIS CAMPUS!

Why is it, that on this campus we have two, competing cynosures of culture, one who looks down upon it's lesser and deigns to mention them in their publications, saying such wonderful things as, "Denisonian meetings are the most boring thing I've ever experienced" or "Maybe it would be better to put some smooth jazz on in the background". Yet, when we ask them if they would pay us our dues—as we deserve being their liege—we are answered with cries of alarm!

"Fuck no". "We hate you". "There is no reason that we should do a feature on you". All these statements drip from the same mouths that said "I hate this [Denisonian Meetings], it's like pulling teeth" and "you think because I like feet I'm some kinda pervert? Some sexual deviant?".

Are these the journalists you want? Are these the journalists that our campus deserves? I say that if people who hate their job and may or may not have a thing for feet, belong anywhere, then they belong in the Denisonian office. They deserve to be shackled to their typewriters, filling up pages, giving arts and life extra pages because they continue to not be able to talk to athletes (and as such are always short on sports articles). Let them live in a purgatory of their own creation. We gave them content out of the goodness of our hearts and yet the spit upon our hands—stretched out in a gesture of peace.

To them I say, PEACE NO MORE! Too long have you stacked all of the boxes in the vestibule in front of our door so we can't get in. Too long you have mistakenly delivered Denisonians to the Slayter trash cans (that's our delivery spot!!!). Too long have you consistently been given new computers by DCGA while we still struggle to use our old Mac that crashes if we move InDesign in just barely the wrong direction.

Yesterday, October 31st, was a preemptive strike. We came, we sat at your meeting, we ate all your pizza. Next time, not a single slice of pizza shall pass between a Denisonian's lips. Bow down to us, or suffer the consequences.
