A Denison game of Would-You-Rather

Lula Burke,
Traitor (Submission)

Would you rather only be able to spend your meal money at IGA (You can't drive there and can only buy 2 day's worth of food), or only be able to eat at Curtis, and it's always the breakfast?

Would you rather be known on campus for regularly posting embarrassing DennyDesires posts about yourself or have every yikyak you've ever written exposed?

Would you rather be able to bring back Steamroller Bagels or Hashi Up?

Would you rather work the 11pm - 3am shift at the Bandersnatch every weekend (Thursday-Friday-Saturday, for free), or have to go to every DCGA meeting (All of them)?

Would you rather have a class in the Bryant tunnels or Shorney hallway?

Would you rather be Buzzy, in costume, at 30 hours/week of campus events, or keep a live buzzard in your room (and you have to keep it alive for four years, or you don't graduate)?

Would you rather never be able to listen to music again, or have the top 10 songs on a frat playlist on loop for the rest of your life?

Would you rather turn the old Donato's building (I know it's a Chase Bank. I am a journalist. But it is Donato's in my heart) into a McDonalds or a Taco Bell?

Would you rather only have to do homework once a week, or never get fratflu/ COVID?

Would you rather go to Denison (and take a full schedule of classes) for 20 years, or live alone on a deserted island for 10 years. Diploma after both?

Death by Coconut, Alligator, or Lightning?

Lauren Ehlers,
Senior Writer

Today I heard some people discussing how each of them would die if it had to happen in one of three statistically improbable ways. The first way is to Die From Coconut. This means a Coconut falls on your head and you Die. The second way is Alligator. An Alligator eats you and you Die. The third way is Lightning. Lightning strikes you and you Die. Answer these 5 simple questions to learn the unlikely way that you would definitely die, had you been involved in these people's conversation.

Imagine you're out on the open road. Your hair is loose and swirling in the wind, if you have enough on your head for it to do that. What are you driving? (Money is not an object.)

- A. Smoothie truck. How delightful of you.
- B. Jeep Wrangler. You're not afraid of rocky terrain.
- C. A small, metal wagon. Okay!

It's a Saturday night and you have nothing going on tomorrow morning. Which of these drinks are you slamming first? Fine, virgin options are available.

- A. Piña colada. You're down to clown, but you also like your drinks to taste good.
- B. Gatorade and vodka. You're also down to clown, but you're not down to be weakened by a hangover.
- C. Dark 'N Stormy. The most down to clown. You're not afraid of dark liquor.

Which pair of descriptors best describes you? Don't sell yourself short.

- A. Fun and hairy.
- B. Scary and low to the ground.
- C. Energetic and similar to Chris Colfer (aka Kurt from Glee) in an unspecified movie from 2012.

Jimmy Buffett just died. How distraught are you?

- A. Very, very, very distraught.
- B. Not distraught at all. The only death you've ever grieved was Steve Irwin's, and that was 17 years ago.
- C. Hard to say. Seconds after hearing the news, you resumed playing with a jumble of electrical wires.

You have an hour-long break between classes. How do you spend that time?

- A. Napping beneath a tree. Your back is up against the tree trunk, your neck lolling to one side. A nut fell down from that tree the other day and hit my friend pretty hard. I hope nothing else falls from up there.
- B. Wading around Raccoon Creek, looking for trouble.
- C. Purchasing a 9-foot Natural Steel Market Patio umbrella, for your patio and also to hold.

The Results (Turn Upside-Down)

Alright, that's all! If you answered mostly As, you're a chiller and you're also going to Die From Coconut. If you answered mostly Bs, you're kind of intimidating, but it won't matter to the alligator when you die from Alligator. If you answered mostly Cs, you're an eccentric and you're dying from Lightning. Good luck out there everyone.
