Wiggles Conspiracy Theories

Tatum Thomas,
Junior Writer

Growing up one of the TV shows I watched the most was The Wiggles. My little brother and I were the biggest Wiggles fans in Ohio. My mom got us so much Wiggles merch and VHS tapes. I slept with a Wiggles branded bedframe and My very 1st concert was a Wiggles concert where as we were leaving I swear the red Wiggle Murray waved goodbye to me personally. Nowadays I proudly admit that I still watch The Wiggles TV Show. Ever since I decided to watch the documentary Amazon Studios put out about them I haven't been able to stop, it feels like I'm watching a giant improv show. Having now watched this show from a more grown-up perspective I'm starting to think this show wasn't as innocent as it seems. I present to you a list of conspiracy theories about each of the Wiggles! (Only doing the OG 4 because idk who any of the new lineup is at all lol)

Jeff Wiggle (Purple) - The purple Wiggle Jeff is mainly known for 2 things, being the keyboard player for the band and sleeping ALL OF THE TIME! It is truly insane how much this man sleeps in any given episode of the show. The Wiggles could be in the middle of helping Steve Irwin catch alligators and his ass will be in the background fast asleep. One time they woke Jeff up only for him to fall asleep once again within SECONDS. “What’s the reason for this?” I started asking myself and then it hit me. Jeff is the purple wiggle and he’s always sleeping, do you know what else is purple and always makes people sleepy? That’s right - Lean! Jeff must be an avid drinker of Lean - he be sippin on that purple drank on the reg and that explains his tendency to nod off in every possible situation.

Anthony Wiggle (Blue) - Within the band Anthony is known for 2 things and that’s 1) playing the drums and 2) eating food. Bro is always hungry and always eating. He’s constantly seen eating comically large sandwiches and big fruit salads. In one episode the wiggles couldn’t sleep because they all heard a huge rumbling noise that was keeping them up. They searched all over Wiggletown in the middle of the night just to see what it was and it ended up just being Anthony’s stomach the entire time, he was hungry yet again. He was so hungry that his stomach sounded like thunder! There’s only 1 explanation for this if you ask me and the explanation I have is that Anthony is clearly a stoner. No regular human has munchies THAT SEVERE unless they’re smoking the devil’s lettuce.

Greg Wiggle (Yellow) - Greg is the lead singer of The Wiggles, he’s the voice and leader behind the band. Another thing he is known for in the show is being a magician. As a singer, he’s got the full package but as a magician, he’s got a lot to work on. This leads me to believe that Greg is a secret demigod sorcerer in training... allow me to explain. One thing Greg can do well as a magician is make things disappear, with one wave of his wand something can go up in smoke and disappear but one thing he can’t do is make things appear. In fact, he spends all season trying to get a rabbit to come out of his hat while Anthony sits and watches him fail all the time. The only time this doesn’t happen is when the other Wiggles are teasing Greg about the fact he’s never made the rabbit appear out of the hat and then out of nowhere the rabbit comes out, grabs Greg’s wand and turns them all into Rabbits. It's like all of his rage was channeled into his wand and unleashed on all of the wiggles - he uses his wand like Thor uses his hammer. Greg also regularly hangs out with Henry The Octopus underwater with NO HELMET, he’s just raw dogging the elements. No other wiggle spends so much time underwater like him... almost as if he’s the only person he can cast an underwater breathing spell effectively on safely.

Murray Wiggle (Red) - Unlike the rest of the wiggles the theory I have for Murray is the most lowkey and normal. Unlike the rest of the Wiggles Murray is known for playing Guitar and loving Guitar, nothing else. Sometimes he reads books, and watches clouds, but the guitar is his thing and he appears to be the most straightforward wiggle. This is the most outlandish theory of the 4 since there’s no evidence but hear me out. Murray is exploiting the other 3 wiggles and is keeping most of the profits the band makes for himself. Out of all the wiggles, he’d have the most knowledge to know how to do this simply because he reads books. That’s why he’s so focused on the music because he knows it brings in the big bucks. He wouldn’t have to worry about splitting the cash with the other wiggles because the other wiggles aren’t worried about money, they just wanna sleep, eat, and do magic. He is essentially a greedy record exec who happens to be part of a band that he’s got trapped in terrible 360 deals. That’s why whenever we see him he’s got a big smile on his face.
