PROS AND CONS OF NEW CURTIS

Carter Seipel,
Restaurant Critic

For those not in the know, Slayter, Denison's student union, has been under fire after making drastic changes to its policies. Nearly every change seems to have been designed with the students' inconvenience in mind. These sudden changes have earned Slayter the damning nickname "New Slayter."

But I'm not here to defend or critique our once-beloved student union. Personally, I have always been more of a dining hall Diane, which means I have been paying closer attention to the changes made to New Curtis.

During my scientific observations, I took detailed notes on a moist napkin. Here they are:

PROS

- Less Is More - At first, I thought this new slogan was referring to shrinkflation, instead it's referring to the removal of common allergies in certain dishes. Way to tolerate the lactose intolerant!
- Face To Face Contact - A rare experience if the depressingly contactless New Slayter is anything to go by.
- Cupcakes - They're taking bigger and bigger swings with these cupcake flavors and I'd say it's paying off. As they say, you miss 100% of the cupcake flavors you don't try.
- Constant County Music - My roommate told me to put this on the cons side but I think that's because he's not a true patriot. We at Denison put the "big red," in "big red, white and blue!"
- The Bullsheet Is Sitting Outside The Doors - Pick up a copy today!

CONS

- GrubHub Ads Galore - I thought Denison prided itself on being local? Much like politics, let's keep our corporate adverts to ourselves during dinner.
- No More Hand Sanitizer - In this post pandemic society? Seriously?
- The Grill Line - The food is fine, but this new 2-in-1 line thing has everyone confused. No one seems to know where the line actually begins or if it's even being used on any given day.
- New Napkin Holders - It's now harder to pull out napkins, especially if your fingers are covered in cupcake icing. I miss the baskets from yester-year!
- Missing Peach Tea - This exquisite flavor of iced tea was here for no more than a week before disappearing. Easily could've made the pros list but I guess some drinks just can't handle the fame.
