LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE BINGO

Griffin Conley,
My friend

Try your hand at Liberal Arts College Bingo! If you feel so inclined, you may return your completed BINGO sheet to us for a special gift.

B	I	N	G	O
Professor asked class to describe emotional state using a weather pattern	First year shit talked your chapter while you were in ear shot and merch	Professor asked class to share economic/social class as an icebreaker	Lost any desire for Panda Express by eating so much Orange Chicken in just two weeks	Do not acknowledge when another classmates previously introduces themselves from the same small town or state
Professor wore leather biker jacket to class	Weigh option of being in someone's film project this semester	Praying you never had to ask a TA for help because they clearly know less than you	Debated whether or not to pay for friends for another semester before a week of painful small talk with first years	Icebreakers are unnecessary because your department is small enough that you know everyone in the room
Bartender said "again?" at Lot/Cidery/TDans	Completed an assignment in crayon	Attend Denison	Unable to pass someone because their CG fur ruff blocks you from their periphery.	Professor showed not one but two Tik Toks in class
90% of class period spent discussing the "implications" of your reading on rocks	Lost an AirTag in a Slayter trash can and had to search through the bag on your hands in front of weekday dinner rush	Played with Legos in class, at professors direction	Said "no way small world" during recruitment about an overlap in terms of expensive high school, summer location, or shared extra curricular	Alumni uses offensive/problematic phrase, which reminds you they attended Denison in the 80s
One empty desk seat away from a miserable fuck and you pray they dont lean over and start a conversation	Professor tells lacrosse guy that they are "the problem" on campus	Professor is well regarded in their field for great reasons, but can't teach to save their life.	Got way too high before class and just drew eyeballs and 90s S in your notes the whole time	Pissed off with having classes M or F again thinking "This is not like Spain/Italy/Prague/London"

Dear diary,

I applied for a job today and got rejected within 4 hours of submitting my cover letter. The job pays 20 dollars an hour and has no benefits. I don't want to get a PhD.

I talked to my dad and he said it's all about "networking." So I went to a "networking" event and I talked to one person who works in banking. I don't want to work in banking.

My family went on a vacation to Florida. I heard they had fun. They sat on the beach and got brunch and probably got tan or something.

I love my friends. Last night we drank cheap wine and did a jigsaw puzzle and watched TV. I made pumpkin bread instead of doing my homework.

I think we should bring back the "got your nose!" bit. It's so funny and such a creative way to shut down an argument. "Hey can you not make childish jokes all the ti-" "Ope! Got your nose!" then run away. Phenomenal.

One of my friends told me that "fate put you in my path and I chose to keep you there." I think that's cool.

One day at a time, I guess. All will be well. Also I need to update my resume, but that's a tomorrow issue.

Thanks for listening, diary.

Ella
