THE COMMENT SECTION

Emmy Ayad,
Senior Archivist

As everyone knows, The Bullsheet started as a forum strictly for news and community dialogue. We've since migrated away from that into the most hilarious content this campus has ever seen but this means our community dialogue suggestion box has been largely neglected since the early '90s. It's about time we clean it out.

Watch Party - Never Been Kissed @ 7 pm in Herrick Hall

New CDs in the Bookstore (2006) The Pippets: "We Are The Pippets," My Chemical Romance: "Welcome to the Black Parade," and Cat Power: "The Greatest"

Winter Formal - Tickets at the door - $4; Tickets after the door - $4.50

Denison Ski Club is taking a trip to Seven Springs Resort. Tickets are $30 and include a lift ticket, breakfast buffet, full gear, several hot chocolates, transportation, and a large man to pick you up when you fall

Are you lonely? I bet you are. You idiot. Tri-Delt is hosting a "Meet your match or your money back" mixer at the Roost THIS Friday

New CDs in the Bookstore (1996) Easy E: "Straight Off The Street," Grateful Dead: "Dick's Picks, volume one," and Ministry: "Filth Pig."

"Hazing" Info Session - Improvement and stamina tips

Fashion Workshop: Clogs?

Shelly please: I never meant to hurt you, I love you so much, I promise this is just a misunderstanding, you know I would never do anything like this on purpose. Please come back to me, I can't stand to be away from you.

Burpees Auditions - Come make us laugh! If you want. We don't wanna force you to do anything. All on your terms. We're all for personal choice and agency

I am hiring. Call me ;)

Shelly. I feel like you're ignoring me, this is the seventh note I've left for you, why won't you just call me? I just got a new Blackberry, and I'm not lying about it this time.

If you have a suggestion to improve campus life, keep it to yourself you little nerd.

Fashion Workshop: the lower the waist is, the higher his love will be

Watch Party - Tropic Thunder @ 9:30 pm in Herrick Hall

Casting Call! please oh my god i just need one person just one ok maybe two but like it could be just one please please please call me please

"I was thinking more like 'The Honorable'." Have you always wanted a title after your name? Get arrested for a DUI and you'll have ome: Probationer. Designate a driver before going out.

Toga Party THIS weekend, pull UP

So I'm trying to find this guy... If you're from Tampa or the surrounding areas and are related to a Tim Tobins, gimme a call. My sister knows your brother or something and keeps telling me to get ahold of you. I'm sure we'll have so much to talk about.

New CDs in the Bookstore (2011) LMFAO: "Sorry for Party Rocking," Florence + The Machine: "Ceremonials," and Lady Gaga: "Born This Way"

DENISON DESTINATIONS 2025 INFO SESSIONS

again

Denison Destinations is an event series for seniors who are feeling lost and scared. Come on down and listen to our alumni network gab about spreading their wings and moving back to the city they were born in. Never been out of the state? Studied abroad and hated every minute of it? Didn't get that internship at Google and now you're scrambling? Don't worry, we've got you covered. Here are the most popular destinations for Denison alums post-grad.

Newark, OH

-- Miss the charm of Granville but hate yourself? Just wait until you hear from our alumni team in Newark. They were the most eager to come, practically tripping over themselves to leave Newark for a few days.

The Marshes

-- Oddly popular with the class of '98, this info session includes a seasonal packing list, big 'ol rubber boots are a must. And you must be up to date on all of your shots.

Ann Arbor, MI

-- Regret not picking a "classic" college town? Wish you could have walked the strip with a Target and a Chipotle and a dive bar decorated in only dollar bills? 9 out of 10 alumni that peaked in college reported finding Ann Arbor the perfect place to call home. Hurry and move now while you can still blend in.

The High School Where They Filmed The Breakfast Club

-- Talk about regressing. This school has been out of commission for almost 40 years, but the walls are strong. If you're big on nostalgia and think you could kill it at that Friends trivia show, this is the place for you. Only caveat being that the only way to round a corner is to slide at least three feet horizontally. Say goodbye to the tread on your shoes.

I-70 Ohio Welcome Center

-- No better place to call home! Those of you who share our utter joy for Ohio will love it here. Nothing but tourists and road trippers, as excited as you are to enter (and leave) this great state. If you're lucky you can pay a visit to the world's largest gavel.

Casa Bonita

-- A few too many people think this place is fake. I can assure you it is not. I attended many a birthday party here in my youth (2). This restaurant/dinner theater/arcade/bat cave/ballroom/tiki bar has a legacy few can compete with. And it has quite a strong alumni network. So, if you could see yourself cliff diving, gem mining, playing skee ball, or eating subpar Mexican food for a living, this is the session for you.

The Isle of Skye, UK

-- Here's an interesting one, every single alumnus that moved here did so by accident after forgetting to book a return trip to Glasgow. Naturally, they resorted to their most primitive instincts and began to build statues to the gods Denison taught them to worship. This session will be their first time reconnecting with society.

Chicago, IL

-- Why not be different and try this hidden gem on for size?
